LELO ACTIVIST MEMBERS

A Legacy of Equality, Leadership and Organizing
 by and for ordinary workers

ACTIVIST MEMBERS are the people who make LELO work. They lead our organizing and political education projects, they help plan fundraising activities, and they can be relied upon to make our social justice organization relevant to the communities in which we organize. In return, they get voting rights and a high level of input in major decisions.

If this sounds like a role you want to play, here's what it takes to become a LELO ACTIVIST MEMBER:

UPHOLD OUR VALUES: Support LELO's mission, purpose, principles of unity and code of mutual respect.

LEAD AND ORGANIZE: Actively participate in a LELO project or committee, be a responsible and accountable leader, engage in regular outreach activities, promote LELO and our organizing.

DONATE AND RAISE MONEY: Pay dues in the amount of $5-$50 per month, or an annual minimum of $60. Participate in LELO fundraising activities.

EDUCATE POLITICALLY: Attend a new member orientation and a 4-part political education series. Come to at least 4 LELO events each year—including internal popular political education sessions.

LELO MISSION & PRINCIPLES OF UNITY

Mission Statement

LELO strives to empower workers of color, low-income & women workers to assert their rights, improve their working conditions and gain a voice in their workplaces trade unions, & communities ... in the U.S. and across the globe

Principles of Unity

- People of color, women, and ordinary workers should always speak for themselves
- We strive to win racial, economic, and social justice and oppose all forms of exploitation and domination related to our race, class, gender, sexual orientation, age, national origin, culture, or ability
- The people's struggles both home and abroad are interrelated – often with a common enemy and common vision for economic and social justice. We commit to support our common struggles with concrete action and acts of solidarity
- The human rights of the poorest and most exploited must always be placed at the center of our work and our passion for change

Basic Code of Mutual Respect

- Recognize we all have a voice and an ear
- “Step back” so others can “Step up”
- Be humble – honor all knowledge levels
- Refrain from all degrading and disrespectful language and behavior
- Don't personalize - argue issues not people; without blame, shame, attack or discount
- Treat with respect those with whom you both agree and disagree

HOW TO JOIN:

Who's Eligible?

You are eligible for “Active Membership” if you have been participating or volunteering in a LELO organizing project or committee for at least six months.
